

Quality policy of Preftek

Preftek plays a big role in bringing Building “to life”. We at Preftek see our position in the construction industry as critically important, as future of humanity lies in efficient cities and efficient buildings – exactly where the core of our business lies. Everyone working at Preftek has the responsibility to add to this quality goal and follow the principles below:

We want to be the customer’s first choice

Because we deliver the best quality at a competitive price, when quality is described in terms of work culture, function of the systems, delivery speed and the integrity of systems as well as our services.

We focus on communication

In our view, quality is very closely related to customer’s and project team’s expectations, therefore we pay major attention to listening to the customer as well as each other that work in a team of a project.

We employ the best project management practices

Quality in project management practices directly influences overall quality of a project. To us all project challenges and solutions come down to the combination of: quality, costs and time. Each of us at Preftek are project managers of certain level – we always seek to find the best combination of these 3 parameters in order to reach the wanted outcome as seen from customer’s eyes.

We are a competent team

In essence, quality lies in the strength of a team. We always work in teams and always trust our capabilities. We are professionals. This belief is ensured by systematic learning and training based on each other’s experiences, mistakes and solutions that we have come across.

These principles are related to other policies and values of Preftek and lie at the very heart of our daily work. By never-ending improvement of ourselves, our work processes and communication with surrounding parties we are reaching for our “moving target” of becoming a leading company of the field.
